

reward: If you reward someone, you give something special or nice to that person for something he or she has done.

I like to reward students for their good work.

handsomely: To do something handsomely means to do it in a way that is great or more than you expected.

I rewarded my children handsomely when they cleaned their bedroom.

cruel: Something is cruel when it brings pain or makes you feel bad.

It is cruel to tease and call people names.

greedy: A greedy person wants a lot of something and does not want to share it.

The bird was greedy about the peanuts.

consequences: Consequences happen as the result of another action. If I walk on thin ice, the consequences might be that I fall through the ice.

What consequences might there be if you don't tie your shoelaces?

regret: A person who has a regret feels sorry for something he or she did.

The boy showed regret for not studying for his test.