

rapidly: If you are walking rapidly, you are walking very fast.

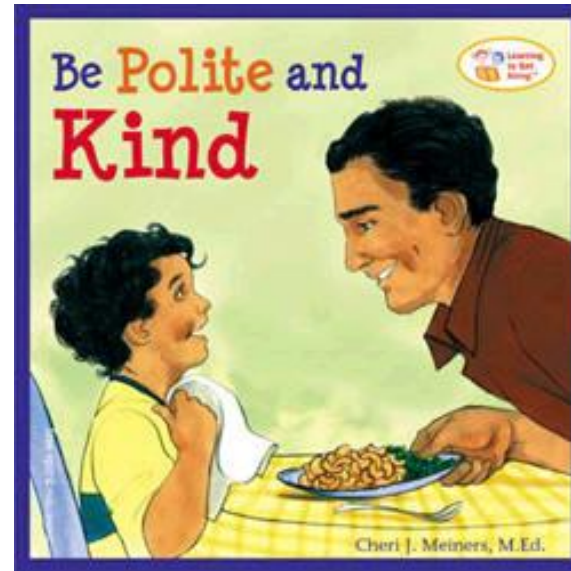

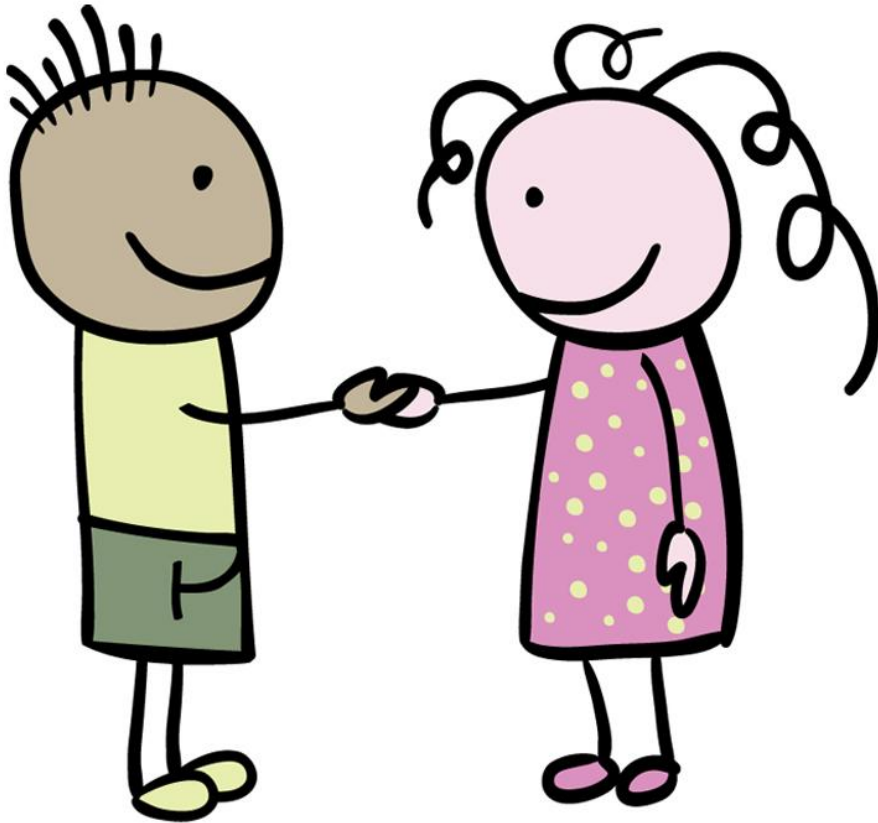

I enjoy walking rapidly to get my daily exercise.

devious: A devious person is not being truthful and might try to trick you.

The devious little boy threatened to throw sand at me!

courteous: Someone who is courteous is very polite.

I love when my students are courteous to each other.

gullible: If you believe everything you hear, even very silly things, you are gullible.

Charlie Brown is always gullible when he plays with Lucy.

hastily: If you do things hastily, you are doing them in a big hurry.

The boat was hastily moving through the water.

unreasonable: If you are unreasonable, you would do things that don't make sense.

It is unreasonable when people do not give children time to play and explore.
