

wriggle: When you wriggle, you move your body back and forth, as you do when you are squirming.

I like to watch the fish wriggle in the aquarium.

prickly: Something that is prickly is sharp and hurts to touch.

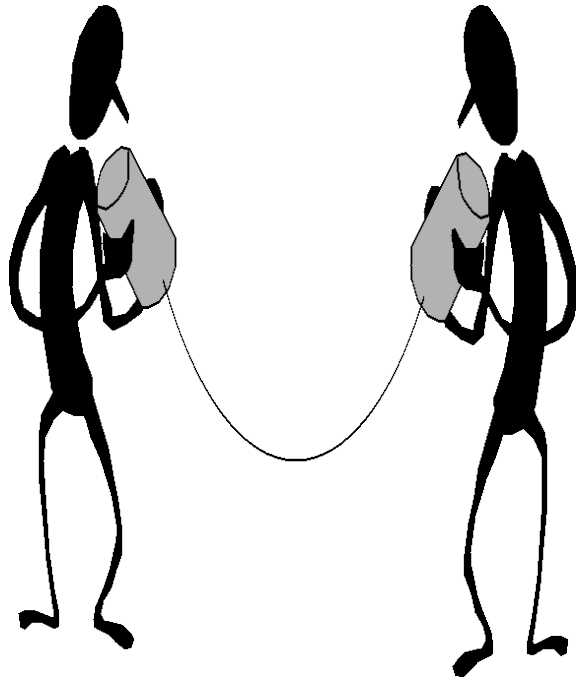

I don't want to pet the prickly porcupine.

interested: When you are interested in something, you want to do it or learn more about it.

This baby looks interested in the sand at the beach.

cooperative: A cooperative person works with others in a helpful way to complete a task.

It is enjoyable to work on a cooperative team.

construct: When I construct something, I build or make it.

When I play with my Lego's I construct different things each time.

assist: When I assist someone, I help them do something.

When students assist each other with projects, good things happen.