

reaction: the response to something or acting a certain way because of something

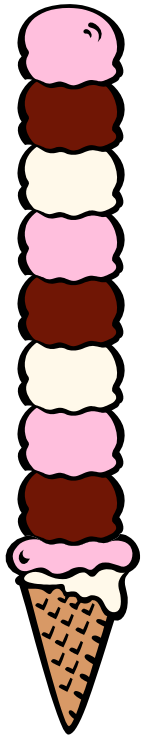

The reaction of the dog was to sit when given the command.

dense: when something is thick or tightly packed together

The dense forest was covered with pine trees.

generous: People who are generous are happy to share and give to others.

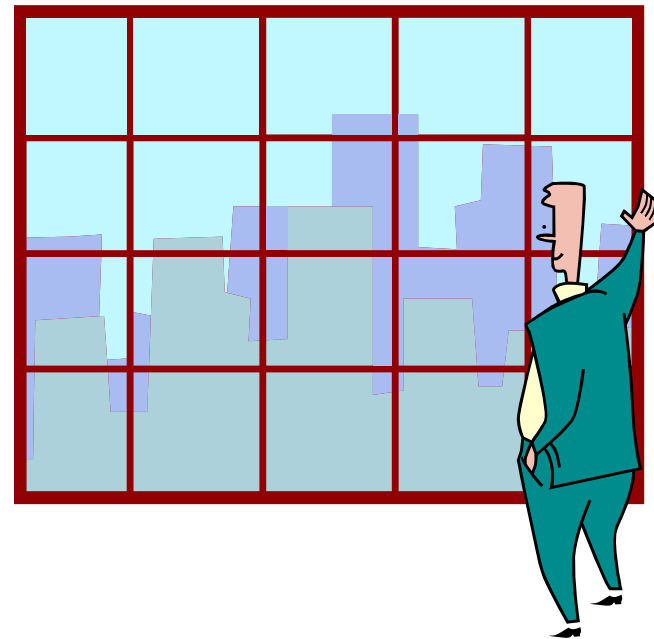

I have never seen such a generous amount of ice cream!

banquet: If you are going to a banquet, you are going to a fancy feast.

I can't wait to attend the banquet held at the Governor's Mansion.

gaze: Your gaze is a long look at something.

The gaze of the man was toward the city skyline.

agreeable: Something is agreeable when it is pleasing to the senses.

The music was agreeable to the audience that was listening.

curiosity: A curiosity is something odd and unusual that people might want to see.

Two-headed animals are a curiosity to people.

famine: During a famine, there is little or no food to eat.

The fields were so dry that the town was concerned about the possibility of a famine.

ingredients: foods that go into making a dish or recipe

The ingredients for making a cake are very different than the ones needed for a soup recipe.

momentum: the speed or force of something that is moving

The momentum of the roller coaster was extremely fast!